Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249

Memory Erosion

Enchantment

Whenever an opponent plays a spell, that player puts the top two cards of his or her library into his or her graveyard.

"The Filigree Texts do not compel you to act in accordance with their precepts. They only specify the consequences should you fail."
—Lodus of the Etherszworn

Howard Lyon

™ & © 1993–2008 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 50/249